BRS NAGAR, LUDHIANA

Dear parents
Namaskar.

Hope you and your family is safe, healthy and happy!

I earnestly request you to stay in the safe confines of your sweet home, keep the kids indoor, don't let them go to the park or nearby shops/market place, don't invite any guests at home- no evening snack parties, and make the quarantine 100% successful for the sake of safety of your family against COVID-19.

I understand it's difficult to hold children inside the house for such long time, but we can utilise this time for strengthening our bonds with them, have quality time spent together by involving children in simple cleaning/washing chores by giving our household helps also a paid off from work in this State-wide curfew.

There are many Online resources which you can use to keep your kids gainfully engaged in learning new skills, sharpening their existing skill sets and even starting with their new course work. I am sharing the names and links of few of the Online resources below-

1. Brain Pop - <https://www.brainpop.com/>
2. Tynker - www.tynker.com
3. Beast Academy - <https://beastacademy.com/online>
4. Khan Academy - <https://www.khanacademy.org/>
5. Extra marks - <https://www.extramarks.com>
6. Discovery Education - <https://www.discoveryeducation.com/>

YouTube Channels-

1. Crash Course Kids
2. Science Channel
3. SciShow Kids
4. National Geographic Kids
5. Free School
6. Kids Learning Tub
7. Science Max
8. SoulPancake

SCHOLASTIC has created a free learn-from-home site with 20+ days of learning and activities. The link for the same is-

<https://classroommagazines.scholastic.com/support/learnathome.html>

You can try any or all of the above resources to engage your children in their daily study schedule at home. In addition to this, lot of board games like Ludo, Carom, Chess etc can be enjoyed together for recreation.

Our school teachers are already sending class-wise study material and guidelines to keep our dear students busy at home. Let us all pass this quarantine time peacefully, gainfully and without letting any stress build up in our minds, with a positive thought that-

Nothing is permanent in this world,
Not even our troubles.

We shall overcome this pandemic too, but with resilience, wisdom and self-constraint.

STAY AT HOME, STAY HAPPY AND HEALTHY!!

With warm regards
